{Sommelier Selections by the Glass}

Vincent Dancer chardonnay | bourgogne, FR 2020 $32

A father and son domaine with son Theo leading the way into the future. Vincent's domaine has been making terroir-reflective wines with incredible energy, length and texture for more than two decades. Certified organic since 2012, his viticulture focuses on respecting the vine and what it needs to support it's natural cycle. This wine drinks like a baby Meursault with great structural integrity and a rainwater minerality.

Corison cabernet sauvignon | napa, CA 2006 $84

Cathy Corison is an iconic napa valley producer who has been making wine since 1987. Corison is known for harvesting her grapes earlier than hardly any other producer, which allows her to maintain freshness in the final wine - not an easy feat in warm napa weather. The result is a wine with higher acidity that can age gracefully for decades... RI

Paulo Da Silva | chitas reserva tinto Colares, PT 1996 $45

Made from 100% Ramisco. Paulo da Silva is a standout amongst a handful of producers in Portugal making rare and obscure wines out of the tiny region of Colares. With over 20 years of the age, this wine is still remarkably young given it's powerful ability to retain structure and bright acidity. The strawberry and rhubarb nuances are still present but controlled... JZ

Le Puy Rose-Marie merlot rosé | Bordeaux, FR 2022 $42

Located along Bordeaux's right bank, Chateau Le Puy has farmed their vineyards naturally and without chemicals since 1610, a rare case in this region. This is a Rosé of exceptional purity, produced by the saignée method, unfiltered, and without the addition of sulphur dioxide. Light bodied, with red berries, delicate florality, & ultra fine tannin. Only 200 cases are produced every year, making this somewhat of a unicorn wine...JH
